Section 1000	Overview
Section 1100	Definitions
Section 1200	Abbreviations
Section 1300	Source Documents
Section 1400	Federal Documents Applicable to Family Planning Agencies
Section 1500	State Documents Applicable to Family Planning Programs

Section 1000 Overview

Purpose	The purpose of this manual is to summarize, or call attention to, all federal and state statutes, regulations, policies, and guidelines which include a requirement applicable to local agency family planning staff. Statutes and regulations that apply specifically to family planning have been summarized in detail. The critical portions of some lengthy federal and state regulations with a scope much broader than family planning agencies may be summarized. Other lengthy federal and state statutes and regulations which affect the operations of local family planning agencies may only be referred to, where appropriate, in Related References at the end of policy statements. Suggested or recommended actions are important for quality assurance.
Definitions	Definitions of the meaning of "shall," "must," "may," and other important words and phrases are provided in Section 1100.
Procedures	Required procedures follow the policy(ies) they are meant to implement.
Organization of Manual	As much as possible, the contents of the manual are organized to parallel the functional distribution of tasks in the typical local family planning agency.
Abbreviations	Commonly used abbreviations are used throughout the manual. Section 1200 lists these commonly used abbreviations, as well as some less frequently used abbreviations which are used in the source documents. The writers of this manual have tried to avoid using uncommon acronyms and abbreviations, and terms that need definition.
Review and Approval Process	Policies on clinical issues promulgated by Family Planning and Reproductive Health (FPRH) have been reviewed by clinical staff from local agencies. Broad administrative policies issued by FPRH have been reviewed by administrative or fiscal staff in local agencies. Where applicable, procedures defined by FPRH staff have been reviewed by the Family Planning Provider Task Force.
Questions	Questions about interpretations of the manual should be directed to FPRH staff at the address or telephone number given on the back side of the cover page of the manual.
Revisions	Subsequent manual revisions will be sent to executive directors and program coordinators for distribution to manual holders. Each revision will be assigned a number which identifies the year of the revision and number of the revision. For example, number 04-01 would be revision number 1 issued in the year 2004. As revised pages are inserted in the manual they should be noted on the Revision Log.

Section 1300 Source Documents

The source documents for all requirements summarized in the manual are identified in parentheses following the statement of the requirement. These documents and their abbreviations are listed in the following two sections.

There are four basic kinds of source documents: federal laws, regulations issued by federal agencies, state laws, and regulations issued by state agencies.

Federal Documents

The federal laws may be referred to as Public Law such and such, e.g., P.L. 91-572, or by the name of the act, e.g., Public Health Services Act of 1970, or by the section within an act, e.g., Title X (of the Public Health Services Act).

Regulations published by federal agencies may appear in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), e.g., 42 CFR 59, which relates to the Title X family planning program, or in a specific agency publication, e.g., OMB Circular A-87 or Public Health Services Grants Administration Manual.

State Documents

State laws are published in the Revised Code of Washington, and are referred to as RCWs. Interpretations of these laws are published as regulations in the Washington Administrative Code, and are referred to as WACs.

State regulations may also be published in manuals, numbered memoranda, and other documents issued by state agencies, e.g., this manual.

Order of Precedence for Federal Regulations

At times federal policies and regulations may conflict with each other. The order of precedence for the various policies and regulations is spelled out in the Notice of Grant Award from the Department of Health and Human Services to the Department of Health. The current order of precedence is as follows:

1. P.L. 91-572 PHS Act Section 1001 as amended.
2. Title 42 (Public Health) Code of Federal Regulations, Part 59, Grants for Family Planning Services.
3. Notice of Grant Award for Title X funds, including terms and conditions, if any.
4. PHS Grants Policy Statement including addenda in effect as of the beginning of the budget period.
5. 45 CFR Part 74, or 45 CFR Part 92, as applicable.

Order of Precedence for State Regulations

RCWs take precedence over WACs. WACs take precedence over other sources of state regulations and guidelines.
